Taking Action

Restoring senior services: At Commissioner Ku's June 25 townhall, we heard about many issues. One of the most concerning was regarding the limitation of Gwinnett Senior Services to certain seniors who rely on caregivers to be present to participate (as well as transportation issues). I have since been advocating, helping almost immediately to restore transportation. This week, I sent a letter advocating for full restoration of services.

July 16, 2026

Dear Chairwoman Hendrickson, Commissioner Ku, Mr. Eason, Ms. Carter, and colleagues:

At Commissioner Ku's June 25, 2026, town hall, I first learned of concerns regarding Gwinnett County Senior Services' treatment of participants who require caregivers to attend programs at their local senior centers. I now respectfully ask the County to:

- carefully consider whether there are reasonable ways to allow participants who can safely participate with the assistance of a family member or other personal caregiver to remain at their home senior center whenever possible; and
- use this review as an opportunity to examine the County's policies more broadly. If the review identifies uncertainty regarding caregivers, reasonable modifications, or participant eligibility, consider adopting a clear county-wide policy that provides consistent expectations for participants, families, and employees.

Over the past several weeks, I have spoken with constituents and reviewed the correspondence between Ms. Peggy Booker and the County regarding this issue. I appreciate that the County has extended certain discharge deadlines while it reviews the matter, and I appreciate the willingness of County staff to meet with Ms. Booker and others to discuss these concerns. I also recognize that the County is evaluating both its policies and its legal obligations.

One of the strengths of Gwinnett's senior centers is that they are neighborhood-based. Participants build relationships not only with staff, but also with one another. These relationships are part of the service being provided. For many participants, changing senior centers is not the equivalent of changing grocery stores. They know the staff, the volunteers, the daily routines, and the friends they see each week. Although a transfer to another center may preserve access to programs, it does not necessarily preserve the community those participants have built over months or years.

My hope is that this review results in policies that are as welcoming and inclusive as the facilities themselves. I offer these perspectives not simply as a legislator, but:

- as someone who, through a nonprofit, started and operates free dementia respite programming in which both participants living with dementia and their caregivers participate; and
- as an attorney who has handled disability-related matters and understands that Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act reflects a policy favoring reasonable modifications, where appropriate, to ensure meaningful access to public services.

I know we all share the goal of helping seniors participate safely and successfully in County programs. The question is how best to accomplish that. I am not asking the County to prejudge the outcome of its review. Rather, I ask that the review remain focused on finding practical solutions that allow as many seniors as possible to continue participating in the programs and communities they know best.

If there are operational, safety, staffing, or resource concerns that weigh against these requests, I would welcome the opportunity to understand those concerns and discuss whether there are ways to address them. My goal is not to second-guess the County's work, but to help identify practical solutions that keep Gwinnett's senior centers welcoming and accessible to the residents they are intended to serve.

Thank you for considering these requests. I look forward to continuing to work with the County toward a solution that serves both participants and staff.

Respectfully,

Marvin Lim
State Representative
House District 98

Rezoning - towing lot opposition (RESENDING): I am resending this because there was a website updating error last time. Sign our "No Dumping Grounds" petition to oppose a towing lot proposal on Indian Trail Rd near Beaver Ruin Creek. Variance at Williams/Omaha: If you are concerned about the variance that was granted at 847 Omaha, please contact me: marvin.lim@house.ga.gov. I have been vocally frustrated for months at the county for no longer listed variance applications by address, which contributed to late awareness of this issue by constituents and myself (i.e., that day). I sent the following questions to our representative (Gwinnett County District 2) only hours before the Zoning Board of Appeals heard this matter; it was granted regardless.

Rich, hi there:

Because Gwinnett County no longer lists its variance applications (with addresses) like it used to - despite my ask of them to do so - this is late, as I've been notified by a constituent (copied, just now), re: VAR2026-00035, who lives nearby the site. I haven't had too much time to study it, but I did have two questions, both of which, if not answered properly, would give rise to my request to ask you to table, if you can:

- 1) The variance is being requested in conjunction with a subdivision that would increase the property from two lots to three lots. Would the requested relief still be necessary under a different subdivision layout or with fewer lots? Because without that analysis, it's difficult to determine whether the hardship arises from the property's physical characteristics or from the applicant's chosen development plan.
- 2) The application states that the request represents the "minimum variance necessary." For what reason is a 7.5-foot setback the minimum variance necessary, rather than a lesser reduction, such as a 10- or 12-foot setback, if some relief is appropriate?

GCPS property at Old Norcross-Tucker Rd: GCPS has owned 1136 Old Norcross-Tucker Rd since 2016, but has done nothing with the property. Based on what they've said in 2025 to me (and in years prior), GCPS has no identified plans for developing the property in any way, given declining enrollment. I am hoping with the new Superintendent, we can get movement. Sign this petition to ask GCPS to identify a plan for an appropriate, community use of the property for educational purposes - such as leasing the property to nonprofits that need space to do literacy and other educational community initiatives. <https://marvinlimforga.com/gcpsont>

Cyclospora: You may have seen recent news about cyclosporiasis outbreaks linked to fresh produce in several states. The risk to most people remains low, but it's a good reminder to follow a few simple food safety practices. Learn more from the CDC: <https://www.cdc.gov/cyclosporiasis/prevention/>

CICLOSPOROSIS

Qué es, cómo prevenirla y cómo protegerse.

La ciclosporiasis es una enfermedad intestinal causada por el parásito microscópico Cyclospora cayetanensis. Puede causar diarrea prolongada, así como otros síntomas.

QUÉ ES

La ciclosporiasis se transmite cuando una persona ingiere alimentos o agua contaminados con coquistes de Cyclospora cayetanensis.

SÍNTOMAS

Los síntomas pueden comenzar 1 semana o más después de la exposición y pueden durar días o semanas o más. Pueden incluir diarrea acuosa, pérdida de apetito, pérdida de peso, calambres o distensión abdominal, náuseas, fatiga y fiebre leve.

CÓMO PREVENIRLA

Para prevenir la ciclosporiasis, siga estos pasos:

1. LÁVESE

- Lávese las manos con agua y jabón antes de manipular o preparar frutas y verduras frescas, y después de usar el baño.

2. PREPARE

- Lave bien las frutas y verduras con agua corriente antes de comerlas, cortarlas o cocinarlas.
- Las frutas y verduras etiquetadas como "prelavadas" no necesitan lavarse nuevamente en casa.
- Froten los productos firmes con un cepillo diseñado para limpiar frutas y verduras.
- Corte y deseche las partes dañadas o magulladas.

3. ALMACENE

- Refrigere las frutas y verduras cortadas, peladas o cocidas lo antes posible (dentro de las dos horas).

INFORMACIÓN IMPORTANTE

Nadie sabe completamente cómo Cyclospora llega a los alimentos y al agua.

Evite los alimentos o el agua que puedan estar contaminados con heces.

Siga prácticas seguras de manipulación de alimentos.

Las personas con sistemas inmunitarios debilitados tienen más probabilidades de enfermarse gravemente por ciclosporiasis.

CYCLOSPORIASIS

MARVIN
LIM 98

What it is, how to prevent it, and protect yourself.

Cyclosporiasis is an intestinal illness caused by the microscopic parasite Cyclospora cayetanensis. It can cause prolonged diarrhea, as well as other symptoms.

WHAT IT IS

Cyclosporiasis is spread when a person ingests food or water contaminated with Cyclospora cayetanensis oocysts.

SYMPTOMS

Symptoms can start 1 week or more after exposure and can last for days to weeks or longer. They can include watery diarrhea, loss of appetite, weight loss, stomach cramps or bloating, nausea, fatigue, and low-grade fever.

HOW TO PREVENT IT

You can take these steps to prevent cyclosporiasis:

1. WASH

- Wash hands with soap and water before and after handling or preparing raw fruits and vegetables.

2. PREPARE

- Wash fruits and vegetables thoroughly under running water before eating, cutting, or cooking.
- Fruits and vegetables labeled "prewashed" do not need to be washed again at home.
- Scrub firm produce with a clean produce brush.
- Cut away damaged or bruised areas.

3. STORE

- Refrigerate cut, peeled, or cooked fruits and vegetables as soon as possible (within two hours).

IMPORTANT TO KNOW

No one fully knows how Cyclospora gets into food and water.

Avoid food or water that may be contaminated with feces.

Follow safe food handling practices.

People with weakened immune systems may be more likely to get severely ill from cyclosporiasis.

Traffic stops: I posted this on social media, but feel it's still worth letting people know here: Georgia law enforcement agencies are participating in Operation Southern Slow Down, a multi-state speed enforcement and public awareness campaign running July 13 through July 19 across Georgia, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina, and Tennessee. During the campaign, motorists can expect increased enforcement on interstates, state highways, and other major roadways, with a focus on speeding and aggressive driving. If you're traveling this week, it's a good reminder to watch your speed, allow yourself a little extra travel time, and drive safely. Slowing down not only reduces your risk of a crash, but also your chances of getting pulled over.

Georgia law enforcement agencies are participating in Operation Southern Slow Down, a multi-state speed enforcement and public awareness campaign.

JULY 13 – JULY 19

GEORGIA, ALABAMA, FLORIDA,
SOUTH CAROLINA & TENNESSEE

- Expect increased speed enforcement.
- Watch your speed.
- Give yourself a little extra travel time.
- Slowing down reduces your risk of both a crash and a traffic stop.
